4.2 In the event of a restructuring, disposal, or merger (including reorganisation), we may transfer your personal data to a third party involved in the transaction (for example, a purchaser) in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

5. HOW IS THE OUTSOURCING OF YOUR DATA MANAGED?

5.1 We take appropriate steps to ensure that our contractors process your personal data in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

5.2 These measures include the signing of a data processing agreement which requires the subcontractors, among other things, to process your personal data only on our instructions, not to engage a second-tier subcontractor without our consent, to take the appropriate technical and organisational measures to guarantee the security of your personal data, to ensure that the persons authorised to access the data are subject to confidentiality obligations, to return and/or destroy your personal data at the end of their assignment or contract, to undergo audits and to provide us with assistance in following up on your requests to exercise your rights in relation to your personal data.

6. ARE YOUR DATA TRANSFERRED OUTSIDE THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC AREA?

6.1 It is not our intention to transfer your data outside the European Economic Area. If this is the case, we will inform you of this and obtain your prior consent to do so, and will enter into any appropriate contractual arrangements in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

7. WHAT ARE YOUR RIGHTS?

7.1 In accordance with applicable data protection legislation, you have the right to access, rectify and delete your personal data, the right to object to or limit the processing of your personal data, the right to portability of personal data and the right to set guidelines as to the fate of your personal data after your death.

Law	What does this mean?
The right of access	You have the right to obtain a copy of your personal data.

The right of rectification	You have the right to obtain the rectification of your personal data if they are inaccurate or incomplete.
The right to erasure (the "right to forget")	You have the right to obtain the deletion of your personal data. However, the right to erasure (or the "right to forget") is not absolute and is subject to specific conditions. We may retain your personal data to the extent permitted by applicable law, and in particular where processing is necessary to comply with a legal obligation to which the Company is subject or to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim.
The right to limitation of processing	You have the right to obtain the limitation of the processing in certain circumstances (e.g., when the Company no longer needs your personal data, but they are still necessary for the establishment, exercise, or defence of a legal claim).
The right to the portability of personal data	You have the right, in certain circumstances, to receive the personal data concerning you that you have provided to the Company in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format and to pass it on to another controller.
The right to object to processing	You have the right to object to certain types of processing (e.g., when the processing is based on the legitimate interests of the Company).
The right to withdraw consent	If you have given your consent to the Company's processing of your personal data, you have the right to withdraw it at any time.
The right to set guidelines on the use of your data after your death	You can define guidelines for the storage, deletion and disclosure of your personal data after your death. These guidelines may be general or specific. General guidelines are registered with a trusted third party. Special guidelines are stored with the Company.

7.2 Please send us any request concerning your rights in relation to your personal data by email to dpo@serb.com. We will deal with your request as soon as possible and always within the time limits provided for by the applicable data protection legislation. Please note that we may retain your personal data for certain purposes where required or permitted by law.

8. HOW DO WE GUARANTEE THE SECURITY OF YOUR DATA?

- 8.1 We take appropriate technical and organisational measures to ensure a level of security appropriate to the risks associated with your personal data. We follow industry best practices to ensure that personal data is not accidentally or unlawfully destroyed, lost, altered, unauthorised disclosure or unauthorised access.

9. QUESTIONS AND COMPLAINTS

- 9.1 If you have any questions or complaints regarding the processing of your personal data by the Company, please send an email to dpo@serb.com.
- 9.2 You have the right to submit a complaint before the competent supervisory authority.

10. MISCELLANEOUS

- 10.1 The Company reserves the right to update this Policy at any time. If we make changes to this Policy, we will notify you so that you are always aware of how we treat your personal data.
